Dahlias of Distinction

In making up this list of dahlias we have eliminated most of the varieties that make poor roots, as it is very hard to fill orders for these varieties, and unsatisfactory if you lose your stock during the following winter. As there are so many fine new dahlias to take their places, we are sure they will never be missed.

The size of a root does not determine the health or vitality of a dahlia. A root two or three inches long with a healthy sprout is more desirable for planting than one or more roots of a much larger size.

The dahlias in this catalogue have been grown at Dahliadel Nurseries, Vineland, N. J., by Warren W. Maytrott, who has very carefully selected the varieties that show the most vitality and bloom freely throughout the season. The colors are bright, clear shades and combinations. This year's collection shows vast improvement—the cleanest and best dahlias procurable.

Orders will be filled with strong field-grown root-divisions unless an unforeseen shortage should occur, in which case growing plants will be sent direct from the Nurseries.

Guarantee

Only the best and strongest root-divisions are used in filling orders and the utmost care exercised. But should an error occur, we will gladly rectify it, if notified as soon as error is detected. Most failures in starting plants and roots are due to improper planting or because of attacking insects. No guarantee is given that plants or roots will grow and bloom, as that depends largely on soil, climatic conditions and attention. But should a root properly planted fail to start a shoot in two weeks after planting, return it to the Nurseries direct by mail, and another will be sent at once.

Terms and Delivery

Dahlia roots and plants will be sent, carriage prepaid, C. O. D., unless cash accompanies the order; purchaser to pay C. O. D. charges. If cash accompanies the order, roots or plants will be sent prepaid and insured, by express or by parcel post, whichever is better, considering distance and size of order.

CULTURAL GUIDE—Booklet on the culture of dahlias, roses, and hardy phloxes—price 25c. A copy will be sent free to customers who request it when ordering.
